Information about this form

Who can apply

To be eligible to apply, you must be unmarried, 18 years of age or over (an adult) and have undergone sex affirmation surgery.

If your birth was registered in Victoria you can apply to the Registry for the record of your sex in the Birth Register to be altered.

If your birth was registered outside Victoria but your principal residence has been in Victoria for at least 12 months, you can apply to the Registry for a Recognised Details Certificate. This certificate will state your current registered name and sex after sex affirmation surgery.

The Act defines "sex affirmation surgery" as a "surgical procedure involving the alteration of a person's reproductive organs carried out for the purpose of assisting the person to be considered to be a member of the opposite sex".

You must provide evidence of sex affirmation surgery

To do this you must supply either:

- from 2 medical practitioners, statutory declaration forms that verify you have undergone sex affirmation surgery; or
- A current interstate recognition certificate issued under the law of that State that identifies you as being of a particular sex.

Additional information

Before determining the application, the Registrar may require you to provide such further information or documentation as the Registrar reasonably considers is necessary.

Fees

Application for Alteration of Sex in Birth Register

The application fee is $60.60. The fee for each certificate issued is $26.60.

Application for A Recognised Details Certificate

The application fee is $87.30, which includes a certificate.

Note. All fees listed on this form are subject to change. Current fees may be confirmed at www.bdm.vic.gov.au

You must provide proof of identity

For your application to be successful, you must provide one type of identification from each of the 4 categories listed on page 3 of this form. Copies of these identification documents must be certified either by a sworn member of police or a staff member at the Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages.

False information

It is an offence under section 53 of the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996 for a person to knowingly make a false or misleading representation in an application or document under that Act. Penalties apply.

Privacy - what does the Registry do with this information?

The Registry is collecting this information so that it can be recorded and preserved in the Register of Births.

Change of name

If you have not previously changed your name and you wish to do so, you will need to complete an Application for a Change of Name form. This is a separate process and the new name must be registered before applying for an alteration of sex in the birth register or for a recognised details certificate.

Change of Name forms are available from www.bdm.vic.gov.au or by phoning the Registry on 1300 369 367.

Other documents you must attach as part of your application

14. As part of this application, you must provide documents that verify you have undergone sex affirmation surgery. This can be done in two ways. You must provide either:

- A current interstate recognition certificate issued under an Australian State's law that identifies you as being of a particular sex; or
- Statutory declarations verifying you have undergone sex affirmation surgery.

The statutory declarations must be completed by 2 persons each of whom is either:

- a registered medical practitioner who performed the sex affirmation surgery; or
- a registered medical practitioner who provided other medical treatment to the applicant in connection with the applicant's transsexualism; or if the sex affirmation surgery was performed outside of Australia, the statutory declarations can also be completed by:

- a medical practitioner registered under the law of the place where the surgery was performed who will verify that they have examined medical records, that they believe to be authentic, confirming the surgery was performed.
- a medical practitioner registered under the law of an Australian State or Territory who is adequately experienced in treating persons in connection with transsexualism and who will verify that the applicant appears to have undergone sex affirmation surgery.

What documents are you providing to verify you have undergone sex affirmation surgery?

Certificates

15. Getting certificates

Whether your birth was registered in Victoria or outside of Victoria determines what happens next for this application.

If your birth was registered in Victoria, you will be able to have your altered sex recorded on the Victorian Birth Register. Any Birth Certificates issued after that time will display the altered sex but will not indicate that the sex has been altered.

If your birth was registered outside Victoria and your principal place of residence has been in Victoria for at least 12 months, you will be issued with a Recognised Details Certificate. This certificate will state your name and sex after sex affirmation surgery. If you wish to have your sex changed on the birth register and receive a new birth certificate, you will need to apply in the State/Country in which you were born.

16. Paying for this application and certificates

Application for Alteration of Sex in Birth Register

If you are lodging an application for an alteration of sex in birth register, you must pay $87.20. This fee includes an application fee of $60.60 and a certificate fee of $26.60. If your application is unsuccessful you will be refunded the certificate fee of $26.60.

Application for A Recognised Details Certificate

If you are lodging an application for a recognised details certificate the application fee is $87.30, which includes a certificate.

You can pay by bank cheque, money order, credit card or cash if paying in person. Personal cheques are not accepted. Make bank cheques and money orders payable to Registry of Births Deaths and Marriages.
